Disclaimer:

This report was prepared by the Dar es Salaam OAA, for U.S. exporters of domestic food and agricultural products. While all possible care has been taken in the preparation of this report, the information provided may not be completely accurate either because policies have changed since its preparation, or because clear and consistent information about these policies was not available. It is highly recommended that U.S. exporters verify the full set of import requirements with their foreign customers, who are normally best equipped to research such matters with local authorities before any goods are shipped. Please note that final import approval of any product is subject to the importing country's rules and regulations as interpreted by border officials at the time of product entry.

Executive Summary:

Tanzania's food regulatory system is generally consistent with the Sanitary and Phytosanitary (SPS) agreement of the World Trade Organization (WTO) and other international treaties including Codex Alimentarius, the World Organization for Animal Health (OIE), and the International Plant Protection Convention (IPPC).

The Tanzania Bureau of Standards (TBS) is responsible for all matters concerning the importation and inspection of imported food products. Regulations guiding the importation of agricultural products are available on the TBS website or Tanzania National Business Portal.

Before shipping to Tanzania, all consignments are subject to pre-shipment verification of conformity \(PVoC\). Under the PVoC process, goods are inspected and tested to ensure compliance with relevant standards and specifications before being shipped to Tanzania. At the end of this process goods are issued a Certificate of Conformity (CoC) if they are found to comply with Tanzania’s standards. All PVoC-regulated goods must obtain a CoC prior to export, which are issued on a per-consignment basis. A CoC is valid for three months after issuance and TBS may reject consignments covered by a CoC if the shipment is found not to conform with Tanzania standards when it arrives at the port of entry.

Tanzania uses third-party contractors to conduct PVoC inspections. Currently Intertek International, Bureau Veritas, Société Générale de Surveillance (SGS), TUV-Rheinland, and the China Certification and Inspection Group Company Limited (CCIC) are contracted to conduct PVoC inspections in origin countries. CCIC’s contract is only valid for inspection in mainland China, Macau, Hong Kong, and Taiwan.

The following activities are conducted during PVoC:

1. Physical inspection before shipment.
2. Sampling, testing, and analysis in accredited laboratories.
3. A quality audit of production processes.
4. Documentary review of conformity with regulations.
5. Issuance of a CoC or a Non-Conformity Report (NCR) as appropriate.
