This certificate is typically issued by an individual state’s health department in the state where the product is manufactured. USDA maintains a website listing state contacts for Certificates of Free Sale. Additionally, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) offers export certificates for most food products. - C. Organic Certificate: Certificates from accredited institutions are required. For U.S. products, USDA's organic certificate is the most reliably recognized certification. A new organic certificate is required when renewing the sanitary registration. An apostille certificate must be affixed to the original certificate.

Certificates must be issued in accordance with protocol quarantine requirements for the particular species. The original certificate must accompany the animal at the time of entry.
- G. Certificate of Conformity: Certificates of conformity must be issued by an organization accredited by the Ecuadorian Accreditation Service (Servicio de Acreditación Ecuatoriano).
- H. Certificate to Foreign Government: AGROCALIDAD requires a certificate in order to register animal feed and supplements. Registration is a mandatory prerequisite for the import of these products; the validity of the registration is two years. Once the product is registered, import permits will still be required but this certificate will not be required again during the registration's duration.
