Report Highlights:

In February 2015 an Illinois-based grocery manufacturing and processing business contacted USDA FAS Washington over problems exporting cheese to Mexico. ATO Monterrey followed up by giving expert border-crossing guidance and valuable assistance about filling out documentation required by the Government of Mexico competent authorities. The Agricultural Trade Office in Monterrey, Mexico resolved the import documentation complexities and the exporter was able to cross 11 of 12 shipments, valued at U.S. $1.4 million into Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas.

General Information:

In February 2015 an Illinois-based grocery manufacturing and processing business contacted USDA FAS Washington over problems exporting cheese to Mexico. ATO Monterrey followed up by giving expert border-crossing guidance and valuable assistance about filling out documentation required by the Government of Mexico competent authorities. The Agricultural Trade Office in Monterrey, Mexico resolved the import documentation complexities and the exporter was able to cross 11 of 12 shipments, valued at $U.S. 1.6 million into Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas. ATO Monterrey investigated and intervened over four weeks to facilitate this export of 11 shipments. FAS ATO Monterrey has expert advice for exporters, customs agents, freight forwarders and Mexican importers about correct documentation procedures, and logistics to successfully export to Mexico.
